

Montgomery College Global Humanities Institute

XIAN UNIVERSITY SABBATICAL LEAVE OPTION

Montgomery College announces an exciting new option for sabbatical leave, a residency at our partner institution, Xian University of Arts and Sciences in China. This opportunity provides valuable cultural experience and academic collaboration to support faculty development, thus enriching the learning experience of our students.

Length of stay-- one semester; portion of one semester

Institutional agreement-- visiting faculty will not have an assigned course; rather, they will deliver occasional presentations and consult on curriculum and other committees. They may be asked to make occasional visits to classrooms, to co-teach a particular lesson, or to serve as visiting lecturer.

Who qualifies-- Xian University's greatest need is in the arts and humanities. They are especially interested in hosting faculty whose expertise is in teaching English and American literature and culture. Other options may open up later.

Costs-- Accommodations will be provided on the University campus; there will be no housing expense. Faculty are responsible for air travel and other living expenses while in China. All rules and guidelines pertaining to MC sabbatical leave apply.

Application procedures--In addition to the standard MC internal application for sabbatical leave, Xian University requires a current cv, to ensure proper placement. Deadlines are November 20 for Fall 2016 and Spring 2017. and June 17, 2016 for Spring 2017 and Fall 2017.

Questions? Contact

Rita Kranidis, Program Director and Professor of English

Rita.kranidis@montgomerycollege.edu

Email: rita.kranidis@montgomerycollege.edu

www.montgomerycollege.edu/globalhumanities

